Wilson Regains Normal Weight, Says Grayson

Admiral-Physician Tells Number of Things the President Does in Normal Way.

Washington, August 19.—President Wilson regained his normal weight of 175 pounds according to an article appearing today in the Washington Times quoting Rear Admiral Cary T. Grayson, the president's personal physician, as having made that statement today. The admiral also depicts "according to Dr. Grayson" the things the president does in a "normal day" at the White House including the following:

"Exercises his left arm by extending and withdrawing it."

"Shaves himself, sometimes with a safety razor."

"Climbs stairs with a cane to exercise his leg muscles."

"Dictates rapidly and frequently writes shorthand notes of what he wants done."

"Uses an indelible pencil to sign most letters to departmental officials."

"At the White House it was said tonight that Dr. Grayson was out of the city and was not expected to return until tomorrow. Secretary Tumulty also was out of town and no other official would comment on the article."

He Traveled 3,000 Miles To Prove He Wasn't Man Who Robbed a Jeweler

Toronto, August 19.—After voluntarily coming 2,000 miles to prove that he was not the man who held up and robbed the jewelry store of Abraham Rosenthal of $50,000 worth of diamonds, DeWitt Cook Ellwood, a wealthy real estate broker of Miami, Fla., today was a free man and the charge against him withdrawn.

Rosenthal failed to identify Ellwood as the robber, and the Miami man produced affidavits to the effect that he was not in this city on the night of the robbery. Ellwood is a former resident of St. Thomas, Ontario, and Detroit, Mich.

COAL OPERATOR HELD FOR EXCESS PROFITS

Knoxville, Tenn., August 19.—Walter T. Barker, an official of the Black Diamond Coal company, was held today by the federal grand jury in $2,000 bail for violation of the Federal Coal Commission law following a hearing on a charge of taking excess profits on coal sold to the government.

The government's only witness testified to five sales of coal at prices ranging from $5 to $8 per ton. The coal sheet, he testified, was held by the company, showing the production of coal at the mine. The government witness, W. E. McIntosh, a special agent of the department of justice, was recalled and testimony introduced that the same persons who owned stock in the Georgia concern also owned the Black Diamond company.

BERGDOLL CONVICTED OF EVADING THE DRAFT

New York, August 19.—Erwin R. Bergdoll, of Philadelphia, has been found guilty of evading the draft and sentenced to four years' hard labor at Fort Leavenworth. It was announced today at Governor's Island.

Odds On Dorsey Swell.

The following election bets were recorded and went begging in the lobby of the Kimball house last night: $500 even money that Governor Dorsey would be the next United States senator; $1,000 to $250 that Senator Hoke Smith would not succeed himself. That would seem to indicate how far the men who put up their money feel that the governor is outdistancing his competitors in the race.

Bryan Refuses Active Support To Governor Cox

Nebraskan Issues a Statement in Regard to His Attitude in the Campaign.

Oklahoma City, Okla., August 19.—William Jennings Bryan is not contemplating active support of Governor Cox, the democratic presidential nominee in the coming campaign, he declared in a statement tonight when his train stopped here on the way from Purcell, Oklahoma, to the north.

Mr. Bryan spoke in Purcell today, but it was not known where he was going.

League Is Necessary, Declares Governor

He Says It Will Prevent War and Cut Cost of Living by Decreasing Taxes—"Senatorial Oligarchy" Attacked.

South Bend, Ind., August 19.—Charges that at least $15,000,000 are being contributed to the republican campaign fund by selfish interests were made today by Governor Cox, democratic presidential candidate during the course of two addresses opening the Indiana democratic campaign.

"That is its low mark," he said, "and the sky apparently is the limit in the twinkling of an eye. They have sub-divided America into seven districts and influential men representing selfish and greedy interests are passing the hat. They are trying to buy a governmental 'underbolt.' It is a mere bagatelle compared with what the contributors expected to get back."

Pleas for the league of nations, denunciation of what he said was the republican plan for a separate peace with Germany, promises of reduction of taxes, and other features of Governor Cox's addresses. He spoke to a crowd of several thousand late today on the court house square, attended a banquet of the Indiana Democratic Editors' association, and addressed another large crowd tonight at the Coliseum.

G. O. Campaign Fund.

With republican campaign fund a special office of the governor's attack, he declared Wall street interests are planning to "emasculate" the federal reserve act, in an "independent" review act, in event of a republican victory, by providing that bankers only shall be eligible to a federal reserve board membership to secure power over credits and interest rates.

Governor Cox also urged federal regulation of bankers and other storage concerns with time limits for storage of foodstuffs.

To his audience of editors, complaining about 500, Governor Cox gave his views on the print/paper situation, urging reforestation, inveighing against a print paper combination and declaring manipulation and panic has contributed to the paper shortage. He suggested federal supervision. He also took sharp exception to Senator Harding's depreciation of the disappearance of political organs, urging an "independent" review act. Governor Cox said Senator Harding's was "a dangerous proposal" suggesting control of papers by the "senatorial oligarchy."

Tennessee's ratification of the woman suffrage amendment brought from the candidate, in his advocacy of the league, the statement that "war is more impossible today than yesterday."

"Because, thank God," he added, "the mothers of America have a voice now in saying when war shall or shall not be."

Praising women as "receptive, intuitive and patriotic," Governor Cox continued:

"I think they are going to help things. Their mother instinct is going to stay the hand of war and that in itself is sufficient to justify the cause of woman suffrage."

League Necessary, Says Cox

The league, Governor Cox declared, is necessary "to keep faith with the boys who died in France," and also, he said, involves "the peace, the home, the happiness and the self-respect of every man, woman and child." It is needed, he said, to reduce the contribution to the league by decreasing taxes for armament and by stabilizing agriculture and industry. It is "the great transcendent issue" of the campaign he declared. Republican arguments that the league would impair American sovereignty were pronounced "moonshine" by the governor, declaring that if American sovereignty was impaired so would be that of twenty-nine other league members.

If they all lose it, where does it go?" he asked. "Who gets it?"

"Former President Taft says Cox is right on the league and Harding wrong," the governor continued, "but that he will vote for Harding. If I am right you owe it to your conscience to vote for me."

"The league of nations is the salvation of the world," he said.

WITH $15,000,000 REPUBLICANS HOPE TO ELECT HARDING

Governor Cox Tells Indiana Voters Campaign Fund of at Least That Size Is Being Contributed.

South Bend, Ind., August 19.—Charges that at least $15,000,000 are being contributed to the republican campaign fund by selfish interests were made today by Governor Cox, democratic presidential candidate during the course of two addresses opening the Indiana democratic campaign.

The Rainy Season Is Almost Over, Says Weather Man

The rainy season which for the past few weeks has held Atlanta and this section of Georgia tightly in its grip is almost at an end. C. F. von Herrmann, government weather man, was the authority for this joyful forecast Thursday. He and Mr. von Herrmann's prediction has the best wishes of thousands of Georgians for immediate fulfillment.

"Clear weather and sunshine will supplant the wet, slushy weather of the last two weeks," is the statement of C. F. von Herrmann. "This change is due within a day or two."

The forecast for Friday is local showers, but indications point to an early return of sunshine and the absence of overhanging clouds, which have been such unwelcome visitors.

Rainfall Diminishes.

Precipitation is fast diminishing over the cotton belt, the largest amount of rainfall being along the gulf coast. Mr. von Herrmann adds that the clouds which continue to hover over the city will soon vanish and a period of aridity will follow. The rainy spell, which appeared intermittent Wednesday, began to show signs of clearing up Thursday, and following a continuation of the presence of the clouds Friday, signs for a resumption of activities on the part of the long-absent sun is due Saturday.

One of the most peculiar phases of the recent rainfall is the fact that there was no appreciable damage to roads of the state, according to Mr. von Herrmann. He states that the roads are naturally muddy as a result of the intermittent rainfall, but he adds that there are very few washouts, and that practically no impassable have been reported.

Regions Suffering.

Regions between Rome and Chattanooga in Georgia were most affected as the rains were most continuous in that part of the state. Roads in that section are said to be in worse condition of any in the state, but Mr. von Herrmann is sure that the conditions that a few days ago were such that they would put them back in their normal shape.

Danger from floods along the banks of the Chattahoochee is past, according to Mr. von Herrmann. The river attained a maximum height of about twelve feet at West Point. This is eight feet below the flood stage.

Mr. von Herrmann advises the traveling public that all conditions favorable to automobile transportation will return to normal within a short space of time. The roads will be in good condition after the sun returns to duty and inconveniences occasioned by rainfall will be removed. He thinks that the estimated damage to the cotton crop by the last two weeks' precipitation is a bit exaggerated.

Georgia Women Will Test Right To Cast Ballot

Opportunity Will Come as Soon as Secretary Colby Issues Proclamation Declaring Amendment Adopted.

Prospects that the women of Georgia may be able to vote in the coming September primary grew brighter yesterday, and there is no doubt that a test will be made to determine their right to the immediate exercise of the franchise just as soon as the opportunity presents itself.

This opportunity will come just as soon as Secretary of State Colby at Washington issues his proclamation declaring the nineteenth, or suffrage amendment, part of the supreme law of the land. He is expected to do this immediately after his receipt of official notice of the action of the Tennessee general assembly ratifying the amendment.

An official report of the Tennessee action is expected to be forwarded to Washington at once by the state authorities and should reach there nearly next week.

Action This Week.

While, of course, it can not be stated definitely now just how soon Mr. Colby's proclamation will be forthcoming, local suffragists are hopeful that it may be issued some time next week. Then the opportunity of the women of Georgia who want to exercise the ballot in the primary will come.

While no official opinion by him has been published, R. A. Denny, attorney general of Georgia, has declared that the women throughout the state will be permitted to exercise immediately through the operation of the federal constitution.

Georgia Legion's Fight On Watson and Hardwick Is Indorsed by D'Olier

Commander.

Augusta, Ga., August 19.—(Special.)—The 1920 convention of the American Legion, which opened here this morning at 10 o'clock, was tonight turned into a riot of enthusiasm and patriotic demonstration when State Commander Basil Stockbridge read a telegram from Franklin D'Olier, national commander of the legion, endorsing the Georgia legion's fight against Thomas E. Watson and Thomas W. Hardwick.

The telegram sets forth the fact that the ex-service men who offered their lives for their country in Europe certainly have the right to insist upon 100 per cent. Americanism in the men who represent them in the national administration and in close with the very best wishes of the American Legion for the success of the fight.

MASKED IRISHMEN RAID MAIL TRAINS

Many Hold-Ups Are Reported—British Officer Killed and Four Soldiers Wounded.

Dublin, August 19.—The holding up and robbing of mail trains and mail motors by armed and masked gangs is continuing. A party boarded a Dublin Southern train at Ferns last night, holding up the officials and taking all the official mails.

Twenty raiders held up a mail car near Kibbrittain and seized six bags of mail. Postal officials with mails from Bunratty, an important naval and military center, were waylaid and the mails taken, while a number of official letters were removed from another train which had been held up near Bunratty.

British Officer Killed.

Macroom, Ireland, August 19.—Lieutenant Sharnon, commanding a military patrol, was killed and four of his men were badly wounded last evening near Ballyvaughan in a pitched battle with armed civilians, who delivered a surprise attack. The attacking party had dug trenches and felled a tree across the road where the patrolling military passed. No casualties were reported among the civilians.

Hunger Strikers Deported.

Eighteen hunger strikers were deported this morning. They were removed on stretchers to heavily guarded lorries which took them to a government vessel. The vessel then headed to sea for an unnamed destination. The prisoners had abstained from food for seven days.

Dorsey Is Accorded Tremendous Ovation In Opening Speeches

Thousand Enthusiastic People Hear Him at Home Town of Fayetteville and Again at Jonesboro.

Fayetteville, Ga., August 19.—(Special.)—Speaking at 11 o'clock today before an audience of approximately one thousand people, ninety per cent of whom were voters, in this, the home of his birth, and again before an audience that filled to overflowing the Clayton courthouse at Jonesboro at 2 o'clock this afternoon, Governor Hugh M. Dorsey formally opened his speaking campaign for the United States senate today, and was accorded at both places ovations that swept away all doubt as to whether Fayetteville and Clayton counties would line up in the columns of untarnished and undented democracy on the 8th of September.

Governor Dorsey never spoke with greater force. He never spoke more appreciative and respectful audiences, hundreds of farmers from every section of the two counties having assembled to hear him; and he never drove home the underlying principles of the true democracy of the fathers as defined by the national party and interpreted by the standard-bearers of the pending campaign, with more effective sledge-hammer blows at fanaticism on one side, and wobbling, squirming, and evasive on the other, than he did on this opening day; and not only did the yeomanry of these counties applaud his firm and unflinching stand for his government and his party to the echo, but hundreds of them rushed to him at the conclusion of his speech to shake his hand and pledge him their support and unceasing efforts until the ballots shall elect him senator in September.

Old Smith Man Praised.

At Fayetteville this morning the pavilion tabernacle began to fill before 10 o'clock, and by the hour for the speaking the streets of the city were lined with hundreds of automobiles and other vehicles, the throng of voters, scores of them former Smith and Watson men, arriving from the remotest corners of the county. Many of them, said, for among them were friends and playmates of his childhood, and others were old men, Confederate veterans not a few, who were the boyhood friends of his father, Judge Dorsey, and who have watched with pride the Fayetteville boy, who made good as a lawyer at his native county bar, in the broader field in Atlanta, as solicitor general, as governor, and who will not be found wanting in any of the noble attributes of manhood, ability, experience and unflinching steadiness to the faith of his fathers as a United States senator from the empire commonwealth of the south.

These facts were illustrated with great stress by the chairman of the meeting, R. P. Minter, a former Hoke Smith follower, one of the prominent farmers of Fayette, a loyal democrat, who refused to follow his former leader into republicanism, insurgency and into a Watson alliance.

Dorsey's Record Praised.

Mr. Minter introduced Rev. W. W. Walker, a Baptist minister and also a leading farmer, who, in turn, introduced Governor Dorsey. Rev. Walker spoke at length and with great effect. He spoke in plain, simple, every-day language, reviewing the record of the governor as a solicitor in charge of the prosecution of one of the greatest criminal cases in the history of Georgia; as governor, whose every heartbeat has been for the interest of the common people, for the upbuilding of the common schools, for the improvement of highways and for an equitable distribution of the burdens of taxation.

At every mention of the governor's name, the great assemblage roared their applause, and when he presented Governor Dorsey as the next senator from Georgia, who would be found "true to democracy, true to his government, true to the understanding principles of right, and always on the firing line for the best interests of Georgia and the masses of the common people," an ovation was accorded the governor.

Some Shots Fired From Opening Gun By Hugh Dorsey

Ringed paragraphs that hurled sledge hammer blows at insurgency, from Dorsey's opening speeches.

"The people of Georgia elected me to enforce the laws. When the information came to me that, while you and I were paying our taxes, there were other people in Georgia, who, to the extent of over $150,000, were evading the law, I did what the attorney general said I had the right to do—following the precedent established by other governors—I employed special tax investigators to ferret out defaulters. The very first man with whom I made a contract was a resident of the city of Atlanta, for the purpose of making defaulting taxpayers in Fulton county pay taxes on property where they had escaped for seven years. I say that because The Atlanta Journal is trying to make it appear that I put these men at work in rural counties only."

"If you think I am the governor to walk through your assembly at Milledgeville, look into the faces of those poor little children, and then permit a man by the sale of cigarettes and cigarette tobacco to dodge supporting our state and thus contribute to place increased taxes upon you, the farmers, whose lands and mules are visible, and who bear the burden of taxation, and continue to fill that institution with poor delinquent people, then you made a mistake when you commissioned me."

"I stand for the league of nations, provided the congress, the senate of the United States, will adopt reservations which shall put the other nations of the Macroom, Ireland, August 19.—Lieutenant Sharnon, commanding a military patrol, was killed and four of his men were badly wounded last evening near Ballyvaughan in a pitched battle with armed civilians, who delivered a surprise attack. The attacking party had dug trenches and felled a tree across the road where the patrolling military passed. No casualties were reported among the civilians.

Hunger Strikers Deported.

Eighteen hunger strikers were deported this morning. They were removed on stretchers to heavily guarded lorries which took them to a government vessel. The vessel then headed to sea for an unnamed destination. The prisoners had abstained from food for seven days.

DORSEY LEADING IN SENATE RACE

Friends Declare That Governor Is Gaining, Despite Desperate Attacks Made by His Enemies.

That Governor Dorsey is attracting hundreds of voters daily to his standard in the race for United States senator was again demonstrated yesterday by reports from numbers of callers from every section of the state who reported that the governor's strength is gaining daily. His friends declare that the political attacks that have been sprung on him are proving boomerangs to the governor's assailants. In spite of the wall of a few disgruntled merchants over having to pay tobacco taxes, the farmers are grateful that Georgia has a governor who is making an honest effort to smelt, at least part of the load of taxation to the necks of tax dodgers and the friends of the state institutions accredited to the governor's enemies. The recovery of $100,000 to the treasury, which would otherwise have been lost in a year of greatest need.

Those who are in charge of Governor Dorsey's Fulton county campaign are especially gratified over the developments of Thursday. Hundreds of cards from members of county Dorsey clubs were received on every mail, there being more than 400 by actual count in the first mail of Thursday morning. The cards are pouring in both at headquarters and at the executive offices in the capital.

Chatham is safe. Dorsey headquarters has received word from Savannah that Chatham is so safe for Dorsey for the senate race that it will not be worth the governor's while to make a speech there during the campaign. The Dorsey clubs here today and almost in every case they brought good reports for Dorsey.

Among the visitors were W. B. Gibbs and W. D. Turner, of Wayne. Mr. Gibbs stated that Wayne will go for Dorsey.

J. E. Johnson, of Cobbtown, Tallapoosa county, says that his county will go for Dorsey. J. C. Kirkland, of Candler, thinks his county will go for Dorsey. Dr. L. B. Lovett, of Sparks, stated that Dorsey has a big lead in Cook. L. O. Benton, of Monticello, was called. He is strong for Dorsey. He considers Dorsey an able, constructive governor.

G. D. Perry stated that Dorsey will get more votes in Morgan than the senator who first received his divine inspiration. A great many former Smith men are leaving the senator and are helping Dorsey.

J. L. Deane, of Hapeville, who has always been a strong Dorsey man, is now for Dorsey. Mr. Driver considers Dorsey to be the strongest candidate with the voters in the Hapeville district of Fulton.

J. E. Johnson, of Woodstock, says that Dorsey will carry Pickens and Fannin counties. He will beat Smith in Cherokee. He believes Dorsey will carry practically every county in the ninth congressional district.

Judge J. M. Head says that the race in Haralson is between Dorsey and Watson. Senator Smith is a poor third.

H. L. Green, of Pike, says that Dorsey can carry his county. Senator Smith is the third man in that county.

E. C. Willis, of West End, says that it looks like Fulton will go for Dorsey.

To Carry Screen. A traveling man who had just been in Screen, said he believed the governor will carry that county. Judge A. B. Lovett, of the Ogeechee circuit, and who lives at Sylvania, stated that the Dorsey people are forming a strong organization in Screen.

J. N. McClure says that the race in Milton is between Dorsey and Watson.

W. B. Stovall, of Atlanta, who has been in Screen from Franklin county, stated that Senator Smith is not running there.

It is a straight-out fight between Dorsey and Watson men. A Henry county man declares that the race in his county is between Dorsey and Watson. Smith is not in it at all.

J. A. Smith, of Talbot, asserts that he had always supported Senator tor Smith, but he and many others have changed. Dorsey is in the lead in the county.

A business man from Campbell, who did not want his name used, stated that a great change is taking place. Voters are leaving Watson and Smith, too, and are coming to Dorsey.

The following speakers will take the stump for Governor Dorsey on Saturday, August 21:

Dalton and Calhoun at 11 o'clock and 3 o'clock. Judge E. H. Callaway, of Augusta; Carrollton at 8 o'clock Friday night. John B. Guerry, of Monticello; Draketown at 11 p. m. John B. Guerry; Soperton at 11 a. m. Mount Vernon at 3 p. m. and Uvalde at 8 p. m. Blanton Fortson, of Athens; St. Mary's at 11 p. m. W. M. Gibbs, of Jesup; Alma at 11 a. m. and Hazlehurst at 4 p. m. Judge E. T. Moore, of LeGrange; Milledgeville at 4 p. m. and Byronville at 10 a. m. Hon. E. S. Griffith, of Buchanan; Ediston at 11 a. m. and Morgan at 3 p. m. Hon. S. D. CHATHAM COUNTY HAS DORSEY CLUB

Savannah and the County Are Dorsey Strongholds, and Prediction Is He Will Sweep Both Hands Down.

Savannah, Ga., August 19.—(Special.)—The organization of the Chatham County Hugh Dorsey club has been perfected and work will be pushed for the furtherance of his candidacy in this city and county by enthusiastic friends.

Savannah is personally close to both Governor Dorsey and members of his family, but in addition to the personal interest of many there is the patriotic principle involved which has enlisted thousands in his active support. Governor Dorsey has been recognized as a friend to the Georgia port city, but that consideration alone does not elicit the hearty support he is receiving here. Savannah and Chatham are normally democratic and have been consistently loyal through trying times, and his followers declare that in the governor they "see the hope of the redemption of the state."

The officers for the organization perfected today are: President, Edward F. Lovell, Jr.; secretary, A. Pratt Adams; vice presidents, Gordon Saussy, George W. Owens, J. G. Kennedy, A. Lawrence, John Z. Ryan, W. Gordon, George W. Allen, J. W. Thorpe, Dr. R. V. Harris, Joseph Hull, R. M. Butler, Jr., M. H. Bernstein, P. A. Stovall, F. P. McIntire, W. Roy Neal, John J. Boulhan, Charles Edwards, L. A. East, J. L. Monroe, T. L. Baker, W. Dewey Cooke, Robert S. Cope, E. D. Bland, Thumason. These officers represent many walks of Savannah citizenship, and are united in the cause of the governor's carrying this county.

It is freely predicted that he will sweep the county hands down, but friends wish to make Chatham a banner county in the cause. Both the daily newspapers here are and have been aggressively for Governor Dorsey since the day he was finally induced to make the sacrifice and enter the race to represent "the American spirit in Georgia."

WOMEN WILL ATTEND PARTY AT EAST LAKE

Ladies attending the Ad club's big party at East Lake, Tuesday, August 24, will be in line to receive souvenirs ranging from candy, kodaks, hair switches and spotlights to silk hose, cakes, stationery and candy, it was announced Thursday at the meeting of the Ad club.

LeRoy Rogers, grand vicar of the approaching event, is planning for a gala occasion on the evening of the party. Tickets are being rapidly disposed of, and a large attendance is anticipated. The occasion is being staged for a twofold purpose: first, to celebrate the victory won at the Indianapolis convention, and second, to add to the circle of fellowship the wives of the members and get them interested in the plans for the ad convention in 1921.

The meeting was addressed by Charles H. Macintosh, of Chicago, chairman of the educational committee of the national advertising commission. His topic was "Building Good Will Through Business." He quoted a number of America's largest business organizations which spend millions of dollars annually in promoting good will. His address was immensely interesting, especially to those present who heard his address, "Better Business Letters," which he delivered at a meeting of the Kiwanis club, of Atlanta, a few weeks ago.

Another speaker was Charles D. Atkinson, charter member of the club. He paid a high tribute to the advertising profession in Atlanta and declared that Atlanta newspapers present specimens of the best advertising that is known in the world.

A resolution was adopted limiting the membership of the club to 500. The present membership is nearly 450, and when the 500 mark is reached no new members will be admitted except in the event of a vacancy on the roll.

Armand Carroll, editor of The Advertiser, the club's new monthly publication, was given an ovation for the success of the magazine, which made it his month. John Y. Williams, business manager, was also highly congratulated.

REMARKABLE FLIGHT OF GEORGIA

Georgia faces a coal famine.

A coal famine causes suffering among mothers and babies. Mothers and babies will suffer.

Georgia is short of power.

Factories, cotton gins, and all industries short of power must close and let their labor shift for themselves unemployed. New industries stay away from the state, where power is short. Plants will close. There will be unemployed. New industries will remain away.

Georgia is without sufficient electricity generated to light the majority of homes and stores in her towns and cities, her three thousand villages, and her farms.

Without sufficient electricity generated, the homes too poor to install private systems must be dark, or endure the dirty, dismal danger of the kerosene lamp. The majority of our homes will be dark, or dimly lit with reeking wicks.

Georgia has in her asylum women insane.

Dull drudgery, lack of help and light drives more than one woman to madness. The pitiable number within the home for the mad at Milledgeville will increase.

Georgia lacks dams and a system of flood control.

A lack of dams and a system of flood control causes the washing away of fertile soil, the destruction of millions of dollars in crops, the flooding of farms, villages and towns, and the drowning of men, women and children. Our soil will be washed away. Crops will be destroyed. Farms, villages and towns will be flooded. People will be drowned.

Georgia has 2,152,850 horsepower of undeveloped waterpower.

One horsepower has the fuel value of ten tons of coal. One horsepower is equivalent to the labor of twelve men.

In the face of a coal famine and an actual shortage of power—With Thousands of homes in country, village, town and city lacking electric light—With women being driven mad by drudgery—And floods threatening every year—

Georgia annually throws away the equivalent of 21,528,500 tons of coal, the labor of 25,800,200 men in her waterpowers, the development of which could transform terror bearing floods into engines of light to fertilize our fields, drive darkness away and bring the blessing of God, help to bear the burdens of the day, to the farm and city home, to the smallest hut hidden in the "red old hills" of the north, to the little houses clustered about the cotton mill, and to the cabin forgotten in the sighing pine barrens of the south.

OUR MOTHER—HELPLESS, TIED

Corporations are free to use this power. Corporations can condemn your home or farm in order to develop our waterpowers for private gain.

But our great Mother, Beloved Georgia, to whom God has given the power of the falling waters to help her people, like Gulliver among the Lilliputs, lies bound and helpless, unable to move, while foreign corporations upon her body rifle her wealth and waste it in financial games, leaving Georgia's children to suffer.

Georgia, however crying the need, can do nothing under the Constitution.

She trusted chosen ones among her children, men selected to be makers of her laws, members of the General Assembly. A few of them skilled in parliamentary law, not the majority, have kept her shackled down.

One hundred eight of Georgia's cities begged for the cutting of the ropes, which hold her helpless. To cut the ropes requires a vote by all of her people. The Water Power Bills were introduced in the Legislature to let the people vote.

The Committee on Constitutional Amendments made a study of the Bills and, after hearing from the only ones opposing, the foreign controlled corporation and one of the corporation's friends, the Committee recommended that the Bills should pass.

But the Rules Committee of the House, the Committee, which determines in secret session what measures the lawmakers of Georgia shall vote upon, refused to let the House vote upon these Bills.

Thus a Committee with a membership of twenty-four men, took the responsibility of keeping Georgia tied. The members of the Committee are Speaker Holder, Chairman; Mr. Neill, Vice Chairman; and Messrs. Arnold, Covington, Hixon, Holtzclaw, Jackson of Jones, Knight, Lawrence, Lankford, MacIntyre, Sweat of Ware, Anderson of Jenkins, Griffin, Pace, Wohlwendler, Smith of Fulton, Dickey, Johnson of Bartow, DuBose, Kelley, Carswell, Stewart and Stubbs.

FACTS ACCUSE AND CONDEMN

In the effort to divert attention from these simple though hideous and accusing facts, one of these gentlemen, Mr. John Y. Smith, of Fulton, has made a personal attack upon the Attorney and the Chairman of the Executive Committee of the Municipal League of Georgia, Marion M. Jackson and John J. Eagan.

The gentleman's accusation that these two men are trying to open the doors for all Georgia and her municipalities "to enter into a regular drunken carousal" may raise a pitying smile among those who know, but it will neither divert attention from nor remove the public record of the gentleman's acts and the privation and loss which the people of Georgia must suffer as the result of those acts, which, like the shirt that, dipped in the blood of Nessus, slain, blistered and skinned the mighty Hercules, will cling to Mr. Smith and make peace impossible for him, although Mr. Smith may be mightier than Hercules, himself.

His misery may find comfort in the company of Messrs. Clay Robson and Roland Ellis of the circle, not a halo, that surrounds the House, and of Mr. Lawrence of Chatham, and Messrs. Neil and Wohlwendler of Muscogee and the other members of the Rules Committee, who worked to block the Bills, but Mr. Smith cannot attribute his discomfort and lack of peace to the Attorney for the Municipal League, whom he describes as a "disturber of the public peace."

Personalities will not be permitted to hide the issues.

Not only the blocking of the Water Power Bills—

But Georgia's shameful financial condition, with her schools and colleges unprovided for and her institutions in want, must be charged to the leaders in this Rules Committee to whom was entrusted the steering of the Lower House of the General Assembly.

The man stricken dead at the helm of a ship in a storm is not responsible for its wreck, but these men were not dead. Charged with the duty of steering, very much alive, they could kill bills, the passage of which meant light, power and happiness to countless thousands, but between the killing, the playing of political games and frolicking, the ship struck the rocks.

Georgia is shamed before the world.

The closing hours of the session, the things done and left undone, have put upon Georgia's brow a stain, which has brought our great Mother's head even lower in the bitter dust, where she lies bound.

She must be freed, the stain removed.

Men who regard public office as a sacred trust—

Men with vision, knowing their people's need and strong enough to lead without the prompting of any man or lobby—

These, and only these, should be elected to office.

THE STATE SHOULD ACT

STEINER EXEMPTION
CONTRARY TO LAW

stitution is at all times the supreme law of the state and which I took a solemn oath as governor to uphold and defend.

"Article 1, section 3, paragraph 2 of the constitution provides: 'No bill of attainder, ex post facto law, retroactive law, or law impairing the obligation of contracts, or making irrevocable grants of special privileges or immunities shall be passed.'

"Article 1, section 1, paragraph 14 provides: 'No money shall ever be taken from the public treasury directly or indirectly, in aid of any church, sect or denomination or religiousists, or of any sectarian institution.'

"Certain bequests had been made in favor of an institution of the class named; under the law as it existed only that part of the bequest that remained after paying the inheritance tax due the state ever became the property of these institutions. To attempt by a retroactive law to take away from the state the taxes that had become its property the moment the testator died violates the unambiguous terms of the constitution.

Commendable Motives. "The motives inducing the general assembly to pass this measure were commendable. The institutions affected are worthy of the support of all good citizens, and I certainly have a most friendly feeling for them, and political expediency might have suggested that I approve this law, but when my sworn duty as governor, as I conceive it, conflicts with what may be considered political, the latter must give way. So long as I remain governor of Georgia my duty as such shall be paramount with me.

While he was convinced that the bill in question was unconstitutional on his own reading of it, Governor Dorsey explained that he did not act without the advice of other state house officers, which the law has made his counselors in such matters. He referred the bill to State Tax Commissioner Henry J. Fulbright, the distinguished lawyer, who has charge of the administration of the inheritance tax act, who advised him unqualifiedly that the measure was unconstitutional and a dangerous precedent.

The attorney general, E. A. Denny, took the same view of it. Other able lawyers with whom Mr. Fulbright consulted about the matter was of the same opinion.

"I considered the matter from every angle," Mr. Fulbright said Thursday, "and I could reach no other conclusion than that it was in plain violation of the express letter of the state constitution. In the first place, it was broader in scope than the two bequests to which reference has been made. It exempted all bequests made for charitable or benevolent purposes of person who died after January 1, 1919. That included the period between January 1, 1919, and August of the same year when the amendment to the inheritance tax act was passed, exempting such bequests from the general scope of the inheritance tax act.

Clearly Retroactive. "It was clearly retroactive, in that it undertook to make a law which was passed in August, 1919, reach back in its effect to the first of January of the same year. It would have compelled the return from the state treasury of any inheritance taxes that had been collected on such bequests during that period. It affected the interest of the state and involved another section of the constitution in that it undertook to return money already according to the state treasury without an appropriation therefor.

"It was a dangerous precedent as I viewed it, because it undertook by a special act to exempt estates from the provisions of the law. The hospital or the Scottish Rite hospital, but on the Grady hospital estate. If exemptions from the provisions of the inheritance tax act can be made by special legislation after the testator's death, there is no telling where this sort of thing might stop. There would always be plausible reasons assigned for such particular act and the inheritance tax law might be made in time hardly more than waste paper with the state a loser by each act.

Just as in the case of the tobacco taxes, those who have under-taken to make political capital out of this case have not hesitated to prevaricate and go wild of the facts in their statement. The governor's friends charge. It is true that the bequest to the Scottish Rite hospital was a straight bequest of $100,000 and that the tax on that legacy would have been $5,000. They say, as the state was charging a straight 5 per cent on all estates before the amendment to the inheritance tax law was passed last year, providing for a graduated tax.

Simply Untruths. On the other hand, the statement that the bequest to the Grady hospital was $500,000 and that the hospital stood to lose $25,000 from the tax exacted is plain exacting on a par with the charge already thoroughly and finally exploded that the governor's tax agency had collected $50,000 in illegal tobacco taxes.

The Grady hospital was the residuary legate under the Albert Steiner will. After all other bequests were paid the city got what was left for Grady hospital. Now, according to the resolution of officials connected with appraisal of the Steiner estate given over the telephone Thursday night, the entire estate was appraised at not exceeding $350,000, and Grady hospital's share of it would have been about $50,000. Of course, in the final winding up of the estate, the city will, in all probability, receive considerably more than that, possibly as much as $100,000. But $50,000 was the estimate made for Grady and it was on that basis that the tax was to have been paid. At 5 per cent this would aggregate $2,500, a figure considerably less than the $25,000, as stated by those who, with what Governor Dorsey's supporters characterize as utter disregard of the truth, are seeking in every way to bolster up a losing cause by making capital out of alleged defects in Governor Dorsey's record.

Miss Martha Henderson, a young woman of Dallas, Texas, who was arrested at an Atlanta hotel Wednesday night by Detectives Powers and Whitley, where she and Hall are said to have been registered as Mr. and Mrs. G. P. Hill, will be a witness for the government at the hearing.

After meeting Miss Henderson in the summer of 1919, Hall said Thursday, he was forced to bankruptcy because of lavish expenditures he made in an effort to get rid

GOVERNMENT MAY DROP
MRS. BRADSTREET'S CASE

There is a probability that the case against Mrs. Katherine Bradstreet, charged with violating the war risk insurance act, will not be presented to the federal grand jury for the northern district of Georgia, when it meets on September 1, as it is expected that she will refund $40 to the government, which is alleged to have been obtained by her illegally. The jury was originally scheduled to meet September 8, but due to congestion of cases, Judge Samuel H. Sibley issued an order calling the jury together September 1.

HARDING TO ADVISE WITH U. S. SENATE

G. O. P. Candidate Says
His Critics May Be Certain Senate Will Be Consulted as Constitution Requires.

Marion, Ohio, August 19.—Reaffirming his faith in "party sponsorship in government," Senator Harding said in a speech here today that his democratic critics were entirely correct in supposing that if elected president he would "permit the senate to have some say in determining the policy of the government."

"The senate saved American nationality in 1919 and 1920," said the republican nominee, "when the executive proposed to surrender it. If a republican administration is chosen next November you can be very certain that the senate will have something to say about the foreign relations of this country. I want to put an end to autocracy, which has been reared in the name of democracy."

"There isn't very much choice between venomous assault on the integrity of the courts and the momentary clamor about eliminating the senate from the responsibility in federal government. I do not know whether the idea is one imported from the peace council at Paris, or whether it is a reflex of the mob mentality which has broken out in revolution in various places in Europe."

Conception of Party Sponsorship.
Explaining in detail his conception of party sponsorship, Senator Harding said it meant a "government of laws rather than of men," in which the executive, legislative and judicial branches should each function within its own constitutional limitations. In this division of authority, he declared, the senate was "in reality the security of stable popular government." The privilege of extended debate and the rule that two-thirds are requested to ratify a treaty were cited as senate safeguards against ill-considered action.

The speech was delivered from the front porch and was cheered by a delegation of members and former members of the Ohio legislature. It was the second the senator had delivered today, a group of civil war veterans from Kenton, Ohio, having induced him to make a brief talk when they paid him a Sunday visit.

"I have reiterated his belief that it was for American rights that the nation entered the world war, and added a promise that if he were elected there would be no surrender of American nationality."

"The speech to the legislators followed a reunion luncheon in a grove near the senator's home. The address of greeting to Senator Harding was delivered by former Representative Ralph D. Cole, of Findlay, who said Ohio had given the nation numerous republican presidents but that "she never has provided a democratic president, and thank God, never will."

Defends Congress and Courts.
In the course of his speech on party government, Senator Harding also praised the house of representatives and the federal courts, and declared his opposition to "that new cult in American politics which proclaims that everything that is, is bad."

He reviewed the "progressive policies" that had been followed in Ohio by republican legislatures and remarked that in some cases credit for these reforms had been improperly claimed by democratic governors who happened to be in office at the time.

Dwelling at length on the senate's rule of unlimited debt, the nominee said there was "not a more helpful thing in all our popular government." In a passing reference to the rarely-invoked clause of the constitution which declares that the rule had been proposed by "an executive who looked upon the proceedings of the senate with more or less contempt."

The senator also referred to the senate filibuster last year which blocked several big appropriation bills in the last days of the democratic congress, and said while he did not approve at the time, the development had saved about a billion dollars by putting the supply measures over into the republican congress succeeding.

Mother's Influence Deciding Factor In Suffrage Fight

Young Burn, of Tennessee,
see, Changed Vote in Favor of Ratification Because Mother Requested.

BY JOHN GLEISSNER,
United News Staff Correspondent.

Nashville, Tenn., August 19.—"I know a mother's advice is always safest for her boy to follow, and mother wanted me to vote for ratification."

Thus Harry T. Burn, 24—the youngest member of Tennessee's legislature—defended the course he took in changing his vote in the house of representatives here from anti-ratification to ratification, when the final test of strength came on the Susan B. Anthony amendment.

Burn is a republican member from

McMinn county, in the heart of the east Tennessee mountains. He made the statement explaining his vote in denying he had accepted a bribe, as was charged in veiled insinuations.

"I believe in full suffrage as a right," said Burn. "I believe we had a moral and legal right to ratify. I appreciated that an opportunity such as comes to mortal man. I desired that my party, in both state and nation, might say that it was a republican of east Tennessee, the purest Anglo-Saxon section in the world, who made national woman suffrage possible at this date. Not for personal glory, but for the glory of his party."

Mother Influence Predominant.
Washington, August 19.—The mother influence has been predominant in the winning of the long battle for woman suffrage, leaders declared here today.

They said the timely help given by the mother of Representative Harry T. Burn, who cast the deciding vote in Tennessee, was but another proof of their assertion.

"The statesmen whom I have known, those who publicly declared in favor of woman suffrage and worked openly for it in the days when it meant so much to us and placed their own prospects in jeopardy, were invariably men whose mothers taught their children that this republic could never fulfill real destiny until it did justice to its women," said Miss Caroline I. Reilly, headquarters secretary of the National League of Women Voters.

"I have in mind one of our greatest and most respected public men, a United States senator, upon whom we have depended for help for many years, whose wife has never been a suffrage advocate, but whose mother is a very pronounced one, and her early teaching made him one of our most powerful friends and strongest supporters in the various campaigns we have been obliged to wage throughout the country."

"I have heard that a prominent publisher used his full strength of his chain of powerful newspapers against us in one of our state campaigns under the advice of his mother who was an anti at the time, and that later he changed the policy of his papers on this particular issue because of his mother's conversion to the principle of woman suffrage."

RESEARCH STATION FOR TUSCALOOSA

Washington, August 19.—An experimental station for metallurgical research will be established at Tuscaloosa, Ala., the bureau of mines announced today. The station will be conducted in co-operation with the University of Alabama.

established by the bureau in the southeastern section and will be devoted to research work in connection with the iron and steel industry and the associated by-product coking industry.

A superintendent and six metallurgical chemists will be assigned to the station to co-operate with specialists of the university. It will involve an expenditure by the bureau of $25,000 annually, the laboratory and equipment being furnished by the university.

The government of Holland will establish an aerial mail service between that country and England.

Home-Brewed Visions.

Of course, somebody is sure to blame this Arkansas vision, as pointed by The Hot Springs Sentinel-Standard on a new brand of

home-brewed visions.

The path of the meteor seemed to be from the southwest moving slightly northeast, and many who saw the meteor believe they saw on it the figure of a human. Others say there seemed to be the figure of a person under the meteor.

What the American Legion in Georgia has done and is doing to defeat those men was and is the natural, and the mainly patriotic, thing to do.

Those ex-service men would be untrue to themselves and disloyal

to the memory of the hero dead

who lie in France were they to sit quietly while partisans berate

them, and their commander-in-chief in the war, and by their silence condone the campaign of slander and insolence.

And it was the natural thing for the fathers of those boys, the veterans of the older generations, to put themselves on record as being actively in sympathy with the cause of loyalty; for the veterans

all, fathers and sons, are comrades in honor and moved by the same spirit—the spirit that inspired them all, in their respective periods, to forget self when duty

called, and to bravely go forward and bare their breasts to the fire of the enemy of the cause to which they had dedicated their lives.

Those men, the old as well as the young, know what it means to face hostile shot and shell on battlegrounds; they know something of the lengths to which the duties of American citizenship may lead; they know the meaning of the words

"loyalty" and "patriotism."

Experience has taught them lessons of which their traders have never dreamed; and it was only to be expected that they would be found standing shoulder to shoulder in opposition to the defamers

of men who placed love of country and of civilization above everything else—above even life itself!

HARD PUSHED!

Several days ago among the

"fillers" in the small, or classified, advertising pages of The Constitution, there crept in by oversight two brief paragraphs commending the republican party and propagating its success this fall.

There is not a human being in Georgia who does not know that neither of the paragraphs referred to expressed the views of The Constitution and that their insertion was solely a typographical mix-up.

Upon investigation, we find that it happened this way:

Among the advance proofs sent out by the various magazines were several prints from Frank Leslie's

Weekly.

A part of the items on these proofs were set up for use as

"fillers"—that is, reading matter

inserted between ads.

The two paragraphs above referred to were marked out from the advance proofs, and neither the copy desk nor the linotype operators noticed that they were so marked, and in the rush of the night make-up the items crept in among our advertising columns.

The Columbus Enquirer-Sun,

which, of course, has sense enough to know better, devotes half of its editorial page of a recent date to presenting these items as an editorial expression from The Constitution which, it declares, having gone hopelessly wrong, cannot consistently criticize Senator

Smith for having been false to his party trust.

The difference between The Constitution and Senator Smith is this:

Senator Smith went along with his eyes open, knowing what he did and defying his party and his state.

If The Enquirer-Sun has no more sense than to attribute to

The Constitution an expression which it knows was not ours, and which it has not even the fairness

to say was reproduced from the

"fillers" of our advertising columns, then its case is hopeless

and neither argument nor explanation would avail.

This is simply one of the many instances happening every day

showing the desperation to which the waning Smith cause has been driven to bolster itself by creating arguments when none, in fact, can be found.

Dorsey's Masterful Speech.

"I want to say to you, fellow citizens," began the governor, "that my official record as governor of Georgia, my recommendations for constructive legislation and the accomplishments of my administration along that line, I will put up against the record of any governor. The record is before you—you know it. It is your state, your government, and the record is yours. Pass upon it! I have had no serious criticism until since I decided to become

Indians Get Two in Three.
New York, August 19.—Cleveland made it two out of three by he game was slow despite the fact that it was a pitching duel between two of the best pitchers in baseball. The Yankees' Babe Ruth made his forty-third home run of the season in the fourth inning, hitting the ball over the right field fence at the Cleveland playground. The Pigeons' pitcher, the Yankees, went to Cleveland tonight to attend the funeral tomorrow of Ray Chapman, late shortstop of the Indians.

In the fourth inning Ruth hit home of Pitcher Caldwell's curves over the right field stands. When Ruth made his 43rd run, the crowd of 10,000 fans, suffered an attack of heart disease and died a few minutes after he was carried from the grandstand.

Federal Prison Team Divides Twin Bill With Colored Stars

By FRED HANEY.
The Atlanta American Stars and Federal Prison Indians, colored teams, divided a double-header at the second game.

The second game was a pretty picture, with the Federal Prison Indians taking the first game by the score of 9 to 1. The Atlanta Stars won the second game by the score of 7 to 1. The Federal Prison Indians, who were on the mound for the Indians in the first game, were in line form, not allowing a single hit until the fifth frame when Crankshaw singled. Seven of the Atlanta Stars were sent back to their bench after they had swung three times. Lewis led the prisoners at bat, getting two doubles and a single out of four times to the plate. Kinker, Anderson and Finkler also succeeded in sending the ball far enough to permit them to travel to the second base.

ROBERTS AND DAVIS UP SET EASTERNERS. Boston, August 19.—The first upset in play for the national doubles tennis championship on the courts of the Longwood Cricket club occurred today when Willis Davis and Roland Roberts, the San Francisco pair, defeated E. N. Havens and R. L. Burdick, winners of the Newport, R. I., tournament last week in straight sets in the third round.

Davis and Roberts swept their opponents off their feet, outplaying them all the way. Williams and Havens, on the other hand, were erratic. Williams, the Davis cup team member, was weak at the net and his strokes were poor. Davis and Roberts displayed superior court tactics and were especially effective overhead.

W. F. Johnson and S. W. Pearson defeated W. T. Havens and R. L. Burdick in a five-set match, coming from behind at the end of the third set. Johnson's lobbing was especially effective.

W. M. Johnston and C. J. Griffin defeated W. T. Havens and R. L. Burdick in a five-set match, coming from behind at the end of the third set. Johnson's lobbing was especially effective.

STUDENTS AT TECH. SAVED THOUSANDS. BOARD DISCOVERS. Following the refusal of the state legislature to appropriate $125,000 as an emergency fund for the Georgia School of Technology, officials of the college in a search for methods of economizing have saved the state probably more than the amount desired by the school.

As the students are given actual experience in the shops at Tech, there is a quantity of equipment made which was constructed by students at a little above the actual cost of material.

Following is a list of the equipment in the shop and laboratory built by the Tech students: Fifteen lathes in the machine shop, approximate cost $125,000; built by students for approximate cost $15,000; approximate cost $10,000; built by students for approximate cost $100, built by students for approximate cost $100, built by students for approximate cost $100.

that congress only may declare war and order Americans to foreign duty.
Some republicans, Governor Cox, objected to President Wilson's visit to France. "The president went,"
the speaker asserted, "to prevent the consummation of a dishonorable peace" and, he suggested, "won a greater victory at the peace table in the world peace plan than was secured in battle."

First Pouch Campaign.
Governor Cox also rapped Senator Harding's front porch campaign and often assailed the republican "senatorial oligarchy," which he said,
was "now attempting to elect one of its members president." Reiterating that he was a "free man" Governor Cox said he would not be "tied to his front porch by a senatorial ring or any other kind of ring." Nor, "owned by any such combination when also in the white house."

Attacking the republican campaign fund Governor Cox said "the minimum fund which is demanded is $15,000,000."

"This will not be scattered generally over the country, but it will be used in certain close and pivotal states," he said, "and it will be put to the uses which cannot be defended in ethics. Meetings are being held now in the cities, quotas are being allotted and the money is coming in."

Certain bankers, who Governor Cox said, are contributing are those who he charged were seeking to emasculate the federal reserve act.

"The other hand in writing their checks," he continued, "to the republican national committee are simply making an investment."

Cox Bares Tainted Money.
Such contributions are not being made and would not be received by the democrats, Governor Cox declared, adding:
"And I intend to cast my eyes on every contribution and we are not going to have any tainted money."
"Others," he continued, "are writing large checks so that if their public puppets and tools get into office and there are industrial concerns they can have the bayonet to enforce their will."

HARDWICK'S RACE IS

Could Not Be Fair
Governor.

Alma, Ga., August 19.—(Special.)
In an address delivered here this morning in the interest of his campaign for governor, Speaker John N. Hardwick paid special attention to the campaign of Mr. Hardwick and the basis upon which it is being made.
Mr. Hardwick spoke before a very appreciative audience. His hearers were particularly interested in that feature of his address touching upon Mr. Hardwick's record. Concerning Mr. Hardwick and his race,
Mr. Hardwick said in part:
"Mr. Hardwick is certainly paying a dear price for the privilege of running for governor—the filling of his heart and very soul with integrity and honesty and consuming sympathy of his fellowman. In such a campaign as he is conducting, he is demonstrating to the people of Georgia that he could not make a just governor, for no man should be governor of Georgia who could not be fair to friend and foe alike, and no man can be fair and just who has the sentiments in his heart that Mr.
Hardwick evidences by his public utterances."

Mr. Hardwick said that in his public record he has not been a builder, but a critic and a destroyer. He has not been for things which would benefit and uphold the state and nation,
and keep the step with progress
have been placed on the statute books in half a century.

an opportunity to do a great work,
that he developed into a critic and Women Must Vote.

In view of the declaration by the attorney general that no enabling act is needed to give women the right to vote, doubt has been expressed that any opposition will be raised to their registration when they present themselves. All the women who will be running for re-election next time with the certainty that they will not be able to register in the future, and that their right to vote then and that women have good memories.

The method outlined above is believed to be a much more feasible and speedy way of securing the ballot than the present method of an extra session of the legislature. In view of the known hostility of the present general assembly to surface, it would be an easy matter for its enemies to delay action on it until the legislature adjourns.
Should the registration books be opened for women by tax collectors it would be a simple matter for the democratic executive sub-committee having charge of making the books to meet and amend them by striking the word "male" and providing that all democratic registration this year until it would be too late to be of any service to women in the future.

national amendment, and that no enabling acts by the states will be necessary.

Eminent lawyers have expressed the view that, if the provisions of the state constitution can not stand in the way of the exercise of suffrage by women, certainly a local registration law can not operate against it. One lawyer said Thursday:

"The course for the women to take is plain. Immediately after the proclamation by the secretary of state, let them repair to the offices of the tax collectors in the various counties and demand that they open the registration books
so that the newly-made citizens may register for the general election. If any tax collector declines to open the books on the ground that the time for registration in Georgia has passed, a petition for mandamus should be brought in the superior court having jurisdiction to compel him to open them."

Can Not Be Denied.
"The suffrage amendment declares that the right of citizens to vote shall not be denied or abridged by the United States or by any state on account of sex." The denial of the right to register and vote can not be placed on any other ground than that of sex, for-bidden by the United States constitution, because women were not given an opportunity to register solely on account of their sex.

men serving thirty-day sentences
at the city stockade, made their escape Thursday morning, according to reports to police station.
The two made their get-away
while assigned to work in the city
rock quarry. At a late hour Thursday night they had not been apprehended and officers in all the adjacent counties had been notified to maintain a strict lookout for them.

'HUSBAND' HAS EIGHT
'WIVES,' WOMAN CLAIMS

Mrs. Annie Ramsey filed a petition in superior court Thursday in which she asked that her marriage to J. H. Ramsey be annulled. She claims she was summoned as a witness in court in Birmingham the first part of the year and discovered that Ramsey was accused of having eight wives. She said she pleaded guilty to having four wives. She is represented by Attorney James L. Moore.

HON. JOE HILL HALL
RAPPS SENATOR SMITH

Advocates Election of Dorsey in Address Delivered at Dawson.

Dawson, Ga., August 19.—(Special.)—Hon. Joe Hill Hall, of Mac-coss, spoke during noon recess of Mac-coss court here Thursday. He addressed the court and the jury, and the record of Senator Hoke Smith claiming Smith was not entitled to credit for much. He mentioned in recent speech he was being measures for which he was responsible while governor, including the abolishing of the convict lease system.
Mr. Hall said he was under no obligation to Governor Dorsey but advocated his election as senator.
He charged Senator Smith with being unfair to Governor Dorsey in criticizing him because of state's present financial condition and the some condition existed, he said, at the close of Governor Smith's term.
